

June Hansen

June Hansen has a Master's degree in Biology from the University of Copenhagen. She has worked with in vitro wound models and wound pathogens such as pseudomonas and staphylococci, studied cytotoxicity, adhesion and wound healing. She will tell us about a collaborative project funded by the 3R-Center in 2015, in which she worked as a research assistant.